Office of the Health, Environment and Innovation Committee:

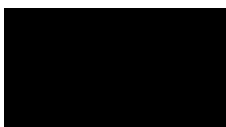

The Australian and New Zealand Society of Nuclear Medicine (ANZSNM) represents the Medical Radiation profession of Nuclear Medicine.

Nuclear Medicine Technologists are bound by the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law (National Law) and registered under the Medical Radiation Practice Board of Australia.

We are in full support of the changes outlined as they pertain to the regulation of our profession and keeping with our directive of keeping the public safe and informed.

Thank you for your time in updating the National Law to remain current and transparent.

Kind regards,

Suzanne McGavin
