

Inquiry into Crocodile Control and Conservation Bill 2025

Submission No: 30

Submitted by:

Publication: Making the submission public but withholding your name

Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

Crocodile numbers need to be reduced in our waterways to make boating and recreational activities safe again. Even fishing along our creeks and rivers is not safe due to the increased numbers of Crocodiles as a result of ending Crocodile control many years ago. As a primary producer we face the issue of safety as many of our farms are bound by creeks and waterways which more recently have been found to have Crocodiles inhabiting. These cant be trapped as theyre often too small and narrow for the departments Crocodile traps. More children, pets, adults will lose their lives if the numbers arent reduced to a sustainable level.