The key to crocodile safety is through education. Education is the way forward and has been proven. It's not that hard to be crocwise. We don't own the wildlife, and we certainly do not have a right to kill it, we are meant to be custodians. Crocodiles are a native animal and everyone has a right to be able to see them. Furthermore one of the main industries in QLD is tourism and wildlife not wild death is part of that. We can and do coexist with crocodiles.
