The 10c refund was 1st introduced many decades ago by South Australia, If inflation was factored in how much would it be now? While there is plenty of incentive for metropolitan people and groups to recycle at 10c I believe that by increasing the amount of the refund to a minimum of 20c would greatly benefit and encourage those in regional areas to recycle their containers through the scheme thereby increasing the recycling rate closer to the desire level of container recovery rate of at least 85 per cent.
