

Wednesday, 20 May 2015 3:50:26 PM

Lo

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Please consider this submission into the "Fly in, fly out and other long distance commuting work practices in regional Queensland" inquiry.

I have stayed in single persons accommodation before and is all I will say is you miss out on a lot of family events

Tearing apart already established communities. It removes your right to come home to your family every night

Companies need to be forced to support local communities giving the option for workers to live local and offering local people jobs first. Towns like Middlemount, Tieri Dysart were built to support the coal mines why doesnt the government place pressure on the mining giants to re establish that process you want a mine you build the town simple...

Regards

Tiomthy Trewin