TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Please consider this submission into the "Fly in, fly out and other long distance commuting work practices in regional Queensland" inquiry.

During the early stages of my mining career in hard rock working 13 day fortnight rotating with 13 nights with a 90 minute run to site from home near broke my marriage luckily for me family was on the east coast and a move was made to head home to Queensland thankfully saving our marriage

Family breakdown and fatigue

Reduce area of employment to a 250 kilometre radius of the mine site and still supply camp and a pyjama day with facilities to commute home and back for next shift

Regards

Tim Pigram
