

My husband is a taxi driver and he moved to Australia for a better future. He is the only member in my family who earn income and look after my whole family in Australia and back home. Which extend to over 6 individual and children. I moved to Australia 3 months ago but we are struggling to support our family since the emerge of illegaltaxies. Due to this he doesn't spend enough time with family and me. I am pregnant at the moment and his income has been reduced 40 to 60 % per week we are struggling to pay our bills and our personal living requirements because there are many hours in a day in which he make 10 $ per hour. He already looking to find other jobs but due to high level of unemployment he doesn't have any other choice. If the issue of illegal taxi is not resolved and regulation upheld this industry will be decimated. Along with it will be decimated lives for many innocent families who depend on the taxi industry for there livelihoods.

If the government continues to take no action, we will stand with our industry to make the Queensland I m suffering at the moment while m pregenent physically emotionally and financially

Your sincerely

Harpreet Kaur