Hi There,

I have always been a proud Australian and My Family and I all regularly enjoy getting out and about.

I am however deeply worried about the way the government is not listening to its people on all matters environmental.

We have been to see and enjoy the Great Barrier Reef a few times but are so concerned about the neglect that we are allowing to continue in regard to its on going well being. Our contribution to the environmental factors that WILL KILL the reef if we don't protect it, have been incredibly selfish and there is much noise about the Unhappiness at this situation.

We owe it to Our forebears (The Aborigines), Ourselves and our Children and future generations to have a good hard look at our selfish ways and make the necessary changes TODAY to start undoing the damage before its Too late.

Clean energy is the future and will go along way toward stemming the flood of climate change.

It alone is not enough.

Australia's People will get behind a Govt. that is bold and strong enough to implement the necessary changes.

Getting votes for today is now about the future, The LONG TERM Future of Australia.

Thats where I'll be voting and so will my family.

Its time to act.

Don't be selfish and do Australia un undoable wrong that will go down in History as a world changing and politically corrupt event.

Cheers Adie

Adrian Hannan
