

Expanding Adult Time, Adult Crime and Taking a Strong Stance on Drugs and Anti-Social Behaviour Amendment Bill 2026

Submission No: 038
Submission By: Daryl Hemming
Publication: Making the submission and your name public

If the government is going to get tough on crime, the penalty must not only serve as a penalty for the criminal but also a deterrent for any would-be criminals. This is where public flogging serves very well. Anti-social behaviour, or other offences of a similar nature should carry an available sentence of being publicly flogged. Flogging, being a form of corporal punishment, does not only remove the necessity of a prison sentence, but it carries with it the shame/humiliation of having everyone know who they are & what they have been convicted of & with what evidence. At this point, they are strapped into a triangle-looking object & flogged a certain number of times