I strongly disagree with elements of this bill.

- a) I strongly disagree with allowing political donations from property developers. Qld'ers are already facing severe housing stress and it's outrageous to think that property developers could be influencing political parties for their own financial benefit.
- b) I strongly disagree with the expansion of laws preventing persons serving or being detained for one year from voting. I think this is undemocratic and wrong.

I agree with the changes to disclosure of political materials.
