With or without firearms terrorists will continue to find a way to wreak havoc on the general population. We have seen them use trucks, busses and many other normally benign objects to cause terror and chaos. A firearm is no different what it comes down to is the person who is holding it.

Extra regulation isn't needed for law abiding firearms owners.

ASIO, weapons licensing NSW and NSW police all have blood on their hands. This wasn't an attack on the jewish community it was an attack on Australians as a whole and as a whole we the shooting community shouldn't pay for others wrong doing.
