Conflating zionism with Judaism is not only unethical, its dangerous. The term "free Palestine" is rooted in the freedom of Palestinians against the apartheid, racism and now genocide of Palestinians. From the river to the see is not a call to violence, it is a call for freedom of all between those markers. Globalise the intifada means to globalise again oppression and to make all equal. None of this is dangerous and in fact its rather racist and antisemitic for the government to push this narrative. Zionism is an ideology, that needs to be separated from Judaism and should not be tolerated in australia, just like white supremacy shouldnt be.
