Dear members of the committee, Re: Making Queensland Safer Bill 2024. Although I whole heartedly believe the community should feel safe in their homes and on the streets, I feel this is a knee jerk reaction which will do nothing but create a new generation of criminals with better skills than they currently have now. It flies in the face of recommendations from experts in the field and is the cheap option out rather than spend money on intervention, family breakdown and domestic violence. I'm sure someone in the government has done the numbers and this was the cheapest option, out of sight, out of mind. I believe political expedience is at the heart of this bill not good governance, as demonstrated in the short time allocated to the inquiry. Kind regards [REDACTED]
