I feel that victims of child sexual abuse deserve a right to be fully supported and gain power. If you allow a good judge of character to be taken into account of a perpetrator it is taking away from victims who have already been silenced long enough. In order to do such vile things to children in the first place you are NOT a good person and don't deserve to have references, everyone should know what a despicable disgusting person you really are and what was hidden in secret should be brought to the light in order to protect victims of CSA so they can get the justice they so rightfully deserve.
