

Penalties and Sentences (Sexual Offences) and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2025

Submission No: 120

Submitted by:

Publication: Making the submission public but withholding your name

Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

This summarises my thoughts Good character references are irrelevant to the sentencing of those found to have committed child sexual abuse. We know that perpetrators of these crimes often act very differently in public, and amongst members of the community, whilst having the capacity to commit horrendous crimes against the most vulnerable people in private,"Mr Braddock