To whom it may concern:

Please retain the current requirement that voters must provide proof of identity before casting their vote. It is only logical that a voter must clearly demonstrate his or her identity.

I make this request regarding both state and council elections.

I am particularly concerned that to return to a model where no proof of identity is required of voters, reopens the opportunity for voter fraud.

I am stunned that any fair minded person would even consider such a retrograde step.

Kind regards,

Terry Harding
