Dear sirs

I and all of my colleagues are alarmed at the newly proposed amendments to the Electoral Act and the Local Government Electoral Act 2011.

In particular, the removal of the necessity for voters to show identification when voting. This would seem to greatly increase opportunity for voter fraud in Queensland.

It seems difficult to image why any responsible Government would introduce such a bill and as a registered voter in this State I would strongly object to its implementation.

Yours sincerely

Paul Miller
