I am writing to urge the Queensland Government to retain the current legislation requiring voters to provide proof of identity before casting their vote in State and Local Government elections.

To remove this requirement will make it easy for voter fraud to take place. There is nothing easier than for a person to front up at a polling booth and claim they are someone they are not. They could go around the polling booths claiming to be someone different at each booth and so vote a number of times for a particular candidate.

It could also lead to people being falsely charged with having voted twice.

For the sake of the integrity of the voting system please retain the current requirement for voter ID.

Yours sincerely

Andrew Elliott
