To Whom it may concern,

We are writing to respectfully request that the current requirement for voters to provide proof of identity before casting their vote at both State and Local Government elections be retained in order to promote voting integrity. It seems ludicrous to abolish the requirement for an individual to show some form of identification for such an important civic undertaking. Abolishing the need for an individual to prove who they claim to be, will seriously diminish the integrity of the electoral process and bring into question its legitimacy.

Therefore I strongly advocate that the current legislation remains in place that requires voters to prove they are in fact the constituent they are claiming to be.

Kind regards,
Peter & Jenny Hotschilt
