It has been brought to my attention that a bill trying to by-pass identification having to be shown at some voting sessions. If this is correct I wish to make it known that I believe it is a necessity for voters to identify themselves before voting. The identification tag attached to our voting letters that come out seemed to work very efficiently. The outcome of our votes warrants it, it is crucial for a fairly run campaign. We have to identify ourselves in some many areas in this day and age where I.D. is required to be shown even to get our mail, Department of transport, see the doctor etc. Please consider the utter chaos that can ensue if left un-policed. Yours faithfully, Colleen Fuller
