To Whom It May Concern

I caution the committee not to rush to conclusion that it doesn't matter much whether the Indigenous peoples, the poor and the needy, the homeless, the disabled [including my son] are denied a vote simply because they are itinerant or indeed somewhat less intelligent than other, or unable to access the necessary papers or identifications through ignorance.

I would object to being made to vote then denied the means to vote by some bureaucratic mechanism.

it's bad enough to be made to vote and fined if you don't then to be caught in endless queues on election day because some mindless politician wants to limit the possibility of an illegal vote. [multiple vote]. Where's the evidence for such an assumption of a widespread practice of fraud. The A-G has become a public menace and an embarrassment to Queenslanders.

This action and the waste of public money on such a pointless inquiry is objectionable. Don't support this mindless A-G in his grand-standing.
