Q5: Do you think that human rights are properly protected in Queensland? Why/why not?

No. Laws can be changed by those in power, a Bill of Rights needs large community support to change. Essential when we are missing an upper house to review state government actions.

Q6: Do you support the introduction of a Human Rights Act in Queensland? Why/why not?

Yes. Whether it has been need in the past is irrelevant, it could be needed in the future and I want my children protected. At the very least, people will be able to measure wrongs committed against them more easily.

Q7: Can you think of a situation from your life or someone else's life that shows why Queensland needs a Human Rights Act?

The way police treated people on Palm Island after Cameron Doomadgee's death. Cameron Doomadgee's death. Preventing certain family members, including their children, from attending family gatherings in public under the Bikie laws. To stop people being arrested for swearing. To prevent specific laws being enacted on specific populations (such as suspending the Discrimination Act to enforce the Northern Territory Emergency Response). Cashless cards for the poor (also discriminatory).
