We cannot compliant the police service and victims of crimes enough, for all their support and information during the investigation and the years that have followed. How ever the legal and justice system, parole processes and correctional centre have yet to show any real support to the victims and their families with minimum communication in things like parole. Which we have only find out in the last few years that the murder of my daughter could be out in 15years instead of the 30 years or life sentence he was meant to serv. The families of such crimes should be fully aware at time of sentencing that this was at possibility. Also, I don't understand how someone that has committed 1st degree murder and the attempted murder to their own children can serv the sentence in low security. All in all the justice system need a real good wake up, criminals do not deserve less time for their horrific crimes.
