I consider the whole bill is a disconnect from reality and should be abandoned or voted down because it supports the notion of a 'post-truth' world where everyone becomes more confused about everything. Now more than ever, we need to be acknowledging objective truths and biological realities. Yes, we need to accommodate those who are different, but without making such differences into required norms that we actively promote/ preach. Do we need legislation to change community attitudes? Only in a group-think dictatorship where compulsion is required to get people to believe the unbelievable. It is an abuse of power for governments to be seeking to control thought. The government should be focusing on minimizing harm/ injustice without accidentally promoting/ preaching one-size-fits-all solutions that somebody in power thinks is a good thing that should make everyone happy, and that people should become enslaved to via government control. The Labor Party should be supporting the working man, without hijacking by the 'post-fact' fantasies of kids and academics. Democratic governments should not be participating in mass coordinated world-wide efforts to de-sex the population. This leads directly to population control, and we know how that went for Germany in the middle of the last century when its democracy was similarly subverted. The worldwide directives of agencies such as the UN are corporately funded and so are not principally motivated by the benefit of the people. Local Bills replicating such directives should not be passed to support these agendas where 'the common good' has been twisted into meaning 'maximizing profit for shareholders/ stakeholders' and 'one size fits all' to minimize the costs of doing so, followed by coercive control. Queensland should be retaining its sovereignty and not defaulting to deleterious international interference and agendas.

This Bill will also not protect real women and girls. It will instead endanger them.
