For the government to allow any man to change the fact of his sex on his birth certificate to that of a female is the ultimate example of an unscientific misogynistic cult like ideology. What it means is that the government places the FEELINGS of men over the sex based rights of women and girls. Those sex based rights include the right to female only spaces in toilets, change rooms, hospital wards, rape crisis centres, domestic violence centres, sports and prisons. By enacting this legislation it means the government is all for ten year old girls being confronted with the male penis in the local swimming pool change room. It means male sex offenders have every right to demand to be housed in female prisons. It means no actual woman can complain about unfairness in sport nor the presence of a man in any female space. How dare this government pretend that they support womens rights. Their standard reply to all this is that there is no evidence that allowing men to self identify as a woman will have any detrimental impact on actual women. DO SOME RESEARCH!! Women all over the world are being harmed by this type of legislation. But we are told to be kind which basically means to shut up! Well women the world over are not going to shut up. It comes down to a simple choice. Either this government supports women's rights or it prioritises the feelings and or fetishes of a tiny subset of men. Let that be this government's legacy.
