I firmly believe people should be able to identify how they wish from birth to death and have that choice reflected in all official documentation, with retroactive application available. If you were decreed to be male or female 40 years ago, you should now be able to change that to gender identity of choice. I cannot understand why this might be a problem. The only reason I can come up with for specific male/female identity needs would be that we treat men and women differently. If men and women are treated equally then surely we can be humans first and gender identity of choice second.
