Submitter Comments:

I support transgender people being able to have the correct gender or no gender listed on their birth certificates. My transgender son is unable to use his state issued birth certificate as an identification document as it wrongly states he is female, instead having to use an Australian Passport with the correct information. At this time he is required to have expensive surgery on his genitals or be sterilised to make that simple document change. This is horrific and has no place in modern Australia. Thank you.
