Submitter Comments:

As a non-binary person who was born in Cairns, QLD, this law would be life changing for myself and my other fellow trans friends and community. To have documentation that permanently states the gender that you are can make trans people's lives so much easier but also worth living as their most true selves. It will make everything else that much better when applying for changes with other documentation. Having the right name and gender on official documentation would be life changing for all of us.
