From what i have seen people have change from when COVID happend. With loss of jobs, money became tight and people are just time poor now.Volunteering does cost an individual money, I know myself it cost me around $3000.00 a year in my Volunteering roles.With having to have Working with children Blue cards and the yearly mandatory training with each organisation it just takes up so much time. I have to do 3 different sets of child safe training. Could there not be one central base for this type of stuff or RPL.Also if the government gave Volunteers a tax break like 1% to recoup some of the money it would be a great help.
