Submitter Comments:

For many years I use to be returning volunteer to Woodford folk festival. But since the Covid restrictions were implemented and only vaccinated people were allowed to volunteer or yo attend the festival, I no longer volunteer. My rights to free medical choice were taken away from me and the trust in government organisations broken. Until it is openly admitted by government officials, that vaccinations never stopped the spread of the virus and the damage that these experimental medications have done to some people are real, I will never return to volunteer my time and energy to abusive powers again. Overall mortality rate has increased not because of viruses, but because of mad state affairs and people becoming more depressed and poorer as a result. Naturally the volunteer numbers will drop.
