I'm happy to volunteer. It's a way I give back to the community. I'm not really even worried about funding for the activities that I'm involved in. I'm not part of the P&C and I no longer have school age children- What irks me is seeing public schools having to raise money for basic essentials in their school. And I'm talking about P&Cs which is run by volunteers. It just should not be a thing.
