Queensland Government please amend the law to protect human rights in Queensland Hospitals in relation to Mental Health

I have confidence that the Government will make the right changes to our current laws to protect our citizens

Below are listed the main irregularities in our current laws

1. The Qld Mental Health Act is amended to ban electroshock, restraint, seclusion, deep brain stimulation and dramatically increase criminal fines and prison terms for ill-treatment of a patient.
2. Involuntary detainment and treatment is eliminated from the Qld Mental Health Act per the World Health Organisation guidance.
3. Every death in in the mental health system is investigated for criminal culpability and negligence and any misconduct involving prescription practices is also reported to police for criminal investigation.
4. Existing money is re-directed to proven workable solutions that do not harm and money is only given to organisations that are held fully accountable and are actually producing results.
