e bikes and e scoters have there place but should be on the road and not on the footpath as they create a problem for pedestrians especially for people like me as i am in a wheel chare If used responsibly on the road they must ware apocopate head gear and comply with the road rules the problem with them generally are the young hoons riding them recklessly creating a danger to the pedestrians and traffic alikethere should be a license for them and some form of insurance to cover accidents as they are basically a modern form of Moped they had to be insured i Realize that this may impact the tourist industry but the reckless operation of them has to be controlled
