I believe they are a great mode of transport especially for the majority of kids that are using them correctly. Public buses for PBC kids are unreliable and can often take along time for children to get home. It takes a load off working parents having their own mode of transport. Akron's are definitely illegal however the majority of students don't have them and have the correct w bikes. If anything more education is needed for students for those parents who haven't taught the kids how to ride them correctly. E bikes are taking the pressure off public transport and easing congestion on our roads.
