I think they are great way to commute, reducing additional cars on the road and getting my son to school. Broadbeach state school is a great school, with limited parking. So many yellow lines around the school making drop off and pick ups difficult. Having the bike is a quick and efficient way to move. As for teens on the electric bikes, it drives me insane. No sense of road rules, zig zagging in traffic doing wheelies is not appropriate. I am generally surprised there aren't more accidents. Limitations on use need to be made and kids should not be able to do speeds of 25-35kms/hr.
