Submitter Comments:

As a regular walker in our Miami area, I am both alarmed and frightened at the behaviour of riders on e-bikes and scooters. I often take my grand children to the beach and the walking path, which used to be a safe area is now a speed zone. There have been many near misses by riders who often have 2 and 3 small children doubling and tripling on the back of these bikes, many of whom are also without helmets. I would strongly suggest a minimum age for riders and use of the road rather than the footpath to prevent severe accidents which inevitably occur.
