The only problem with e-bikes is the use of non compliant e-bikes. Compliant e-bikes are totally fine for use. Current scooter laws are adequate and don't need to change. Sale of non compliant e-bikes and e-scooters should be banned. Currently policing of current use laws related to e-bikes and e-scooters is basically non existent. Policing of current laws is the only way forward to drastically reduce injury and death. It's simple really. Current laws are fine. Policing of these laws is poor.

Parents should be held liable for offences of their children. Where else does little Jonny get 2k for an e-scooter that reaches speeds of 60kmh.
