My main concerns are no clear road rules about speed limits, are they used to be used on footpaths or roads. Who would enforce rules etc. In our suburb we are having a lot of problems with the young riders speeding and being aggressive towards the elderly and young both, also youth cutting across road in front of motor vehicles. I am really concerned for everyone's safety it will only be a matter of time before someone is hurt or killed. We need to have a nationwide set of rules and regulations and relevant authorities to uphold them.
