No kids under 14 or thereabouts. Helmets and considering that they have conversion kits to make them faster than standard, some form of safety, learners test and license should be required. They're not dissimilar to a motorcycle or moped which require one. Also if a child god forbid in any way collides with my car or myself.A. I would feel so guilty, bad and worried about the child and for the rest of life. Even if they're at fault.B. No insurance for damages to me, my property or anything and this is the second biggest reason.My 6&10 year olds both have e-bikes. 45km or something ridiculous. [REDACTED] bought them for them and I am sure it's just a matter of time before one gets hurt. It's of huge concern to me. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED].Please fine him before I get a call from the hospital or police :(Warm regards
