1. E-bikes and e-scooters are motorised transport, and should be regulated like all other forms of motorised transport. 2. This means that, to be used on public roads, they should be registered and insured, and the operators should be over the age of 16 and licensed. 3. Most importantly, they should not be used on footpaths. It is too dangerous for pedestrians. 4. If e-bikes and e-scooters are not regulated, as above, they should be banned from use on public roads and footpaths.
