Victoria Park is one of the very few, inner-city green spaces, used by large numbers of locals and visitors alike. It is also a significant area for first nations people to visit sacred places, not to mention the many old trees which date back to before white settlers. Once this area is lost it can never be replaced. With improved public transport Brisbane does have many appropriate stadiums which could be modified and used for the upcoming Olympic games. Please act to keep the laws designed to protect our public green spaces. Thank you.
