To change the rules concerning planning is a really bad idea. There will always be olympic games somewhere, but there wont always be koalas. They are already endangered. Visitors come to australia to see koalas. Imagine the damage to our image if we wipe them out. We are slowly doing this by destroying their habitat. They need certain trees for food. They need corridors to move around safely.To make it easier to destroy habitat is incredibly shortsighted, unenlightened and blatantly stupid. Humans are intimately linked to our environment and need it to survive. As politicians it is your duty to protect it on our behalf.
