To whom it may concern,

In relation to the Mineral, Water and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2017,

- Clause 37 requires change to 'in relation to the eligible claimants land' to protect people affected by mining activities.
- All costs of negotiations, dispute, arbitration should be paid by mining companies who have approached landholders and initiated the processes.
- Clause 45 must be changed to ensure landholders have legal representation during arbitration, and to make appeals possible to arbitration.
- Drop clause 33 as miners should not enter land during arbitration.

Yours Sincerely,

Russell Bennie.
