Upon understanding punishment is inhumane and ineffective for people who are considered ill behaved, shock therapy and other punishment tools stopped being used. As we don't know that dogs understand if they are being punished and we don't know what dogs are thinking when they are being punished, I believe it is irresponsible to allow people to use these tools (check/choke chains, prong collars, e-collars/shock collars) on dogs of any kind, whether they are security, police, or pet dogs!
