We humans have a LOT to answer for when it comes to the safety and survival of our native animals/species.....the introduction of such HARMFUL traps like glue traps are as barbaric as the codes that are supposed to protect our critters , we simply CANNOT sit back and allow so many beautiful creatures, all who have a purpose here and fit into a fragile ecosystem which us humans seen to kick aside as though we are the only ones' that matter!the wildlife that get's caught up in these traps , in more cases than not, are the very animals that the traps went designed for, and most DON'T survive being caught in them....there are many numerous natural ways to control pest species, this ISN'T one of them, along side the rat poison baits, think of how we've stopped (to a certain degree) the sales of Agent Orange in it's various forms and recipes , from being sold in hardwares like Bunnings, THESE Glue Traps should be BANNED !!!Humans are destroying all ecosystems and this planet at a rate far quicker than when the dinosaurs pulled the planet, let's start to reclaim this fragile planet by eliminating human interference in the form of glue traps, let nature take back control of keeping pests under control!
