Submitter Comments:

I am typing this submission with the aim to get glue traps banned. Glue traps are cruel and indiscriminate killers. They not only catch "target" animals, but also non-target animals, which may include rare and endangered species. Animals caught in glue traps suffer pain and injury as they try to escape. If they escape the chances are that they will then die of those injuries. If they don't escape, they are left stuck on the glue traps suffering from injury, and as these traps usually don't get checked often, they slowly die of dehydration or starvation. Even if the traps are checked often, the injuries sustained by the struggling animals are usually a death sentence in themselves. Ban these things please.
