Submitter Comments:

I urge the committee to consider the cruelty caused by glue traps, they are easily available at hardware shops. They are not good for many reasons -They are a blunt instrument and kill all insects including beneficial insects. There are numerous instances of other unintended animals like birds, bats, reptiles to name a few, getting stuck and trapped. They then face the prospect of a slow and painful death, incurring further injury while they struggle to free themselves. Glue traps are not even good for the purpose they are put up as mentioned above. They are inhumane and cause terrible animal suffering.
