That the wording in section 14, when you read Division 5 Section 37A with regard to restraint devices be changed. It would appear from the current wording of this that it is illegal to own collars, leads, harnesses, muzzles or halters unless you have a reasonable excuse, therefore if my dog passes away I must get rid of these items or else I am breaking the law. This seems ridiculous as I may wish to own an animal again at a later date. I think this needs rewording or looking at again.
