I am appalled that you allow the use of glue traps. These glue traps indiscriminately catch wild animals that are not targeted, and they die horrible deaths. With wildlife in peril it is even more important to eliminate the use of these traps that indiscriminately harm them. Any society should be shocked at the terrible pain and agony that these animals experience before they finally die. Maybe the committee should watch videos of these struggling animals and see how they tear their bodies apart trying to get free so that they understand how evil these traps are, and they should think how they would feel if their small pet got caught on one. I urge the committee to permanently ban these horrible killing devices. Please do what is right.
