

Inquiry into the Animal Care and Protection Amendment Bill 2022

Submission No: 436
Submitted by: Louise Ray-Mertik
Publication: Make my submission and my name public
Attachments: No attachment

Submitter Comments:

Bunnings sell glue traps and animals do get caught in these glue traps and rip off limbs and skin and hair/feathers depending on the animal caught. People often don't check instructions and don't check the trap so the animal suffers and sometimes dies a slow death. Other countries have banned these glue traps and I would like the committee to consider it is very cruel on animals and ban glue traps as well. Please, little animals have no defence against these traps and instructions are provided for humans to follow and read but we all know some people don't read instructions or check the traps to see if any of the beautiful wildlife that australia has gets trapped. I know several people who doesn't read instructions on the products they buys. So a lot of people are like this.